Sunil Verma Memorial Open Squash Championship

At Jindal Recreational Complex, Vasind, Dist Thane (20/01/2013)

Abhishek, Urwashi emerge champs

All winners along with officials of JSW Steels : Mr. Parth Jindal, Mr. J.D.Jindal, Mr. Sanjay Goyal, Mr.R. Sinha, Ms.Shanti Verma (Wife of Late Mr.Sunil Verma) and Ashish Gupta (President, ISP)

Abhishek Agarwal and Urwashi Joshi emerged champions in the boys and girls under - 19 sections in the Sunil Verma Memorial Squash Open Championship at the Jindal Recreation Complex, Vashind. Both the champs had tough final outings before getting through in four games. Agarwal beat Tushar Kothari 11-5, 12-10, 11-13, 11-3, while Urwashi got the better of Nikita Joshi 11-6, 11-4, 7-11, 11-9. The boys under-15 final also witnessed a thriller, with Sandeep Paswan getting the better of fancied Yohann Surti in a match that went the distance. Paswan prevailed 12-10, 11-13, 7-11, 11-7, 11-8, his superior fitness tilting the scales in his favour.

The tournament was sponsored by the JSW group in memory of Late Sunil Verma who lived and breathed squash. He died in 2012 in the close vicinity of sport - of a heart attack while running on the treadmill of the academy gym where he trained several of his students to become champions.

It was an unexpected death at 43, cruelly premature and wholly tragic for his hundred-odd ward who looked up to him as a mentor more than just a squash coach. In fact he had suffered a heart attack minutes before refereeing a match at the Commonwealth Games in Delhi in October 2010, but had stabilized from that jolt to resume training his students at the academy. However the paralytic attack followed by the cardiac arrest on the treadmill had proven to be fatal even as a pair of teenagers lifting weights on the adjoining sets called out for help.

Verma, who hailed from Madhya Pradesh joined the Jindals academy in 1995, and had shepherded close to a dozen charges to national titles across various age categories over a seven-year uninterrupted period.

His wards were far different from the squash kids of Mumbai. In fact what set apart squash trainees from the Jindals academy always - even a decade ago - was just how supremely fit they were.

Verma was also known to shun the limelight despite his academy throwing up champs prolifically in junior sections.

20 SQUASH BACK THE BID

His wife Shanti Verma – Now drafted into the company's HR department – did her bit by helping groom the children and sharpening their English speaking skills after kids would return to Vashind.

"He had several opportunities to train kids in posher academies. But he was determined to train wards at Jindal's and said he's stay there lifelong," Kunwarpal Singh, one of his student recalls.

60th National Squash Championship 2012

at The Calcutta Racket Club (19/12/2012)

Saurav, Joshna emerge National Champions

Saurav Ghosal defended his eighth National title — last seven in-a-row — with a hard-fought but straight-game victory over second seed Harinder Pal Sandhu in Kolkata. In winning her 11th crown, Joshna Chinappa stood head and shoulders above all her competitors, including second seed and Statemate Anaka Alankamony. She too won in straight games.

It took a little over 20 minutes for the top seed Ghosal to tame a fighting Sandhu. The scoreline of 11-5, 11-4, 11-3 not only misled the intensity of the contest but also the spirit the two 'best friends' displayed on the court. Ghosal's superior stamina, court-craft, power and deft touch made all the difference. For Joshna, it was a walk in the park against Anaka.

The 18-year-old second seed tried hard to match a faster and superior opponent only to find the victory eluding her in her third final of her career. Joshna regained the title after one year.

All Winners with their trophies

Top seed Jui Kalgutkar halted No. 3 Nikita Joshi to retain the girls' under-15 title, in the Matunga Gymkhana Junior Open Squash Tournament.

Kalgutkar endured an early challenge in which she dropped the opening set over extra points before racing to a 3-1 win over Joshi who was hampered by an ankle injury. In the match of the day that went down to the wire, top seed Aryan Parekh of Matunga Gymkhana lived dangerously before rallying to a thrilling 11-9, 6-11, 11-13, 11-9, 11-9 win over second seed Rahul Baitha of Jindal Squash Academy.

A gritty Baitha put Parekh under pressure from the start and surged to a surprise 2-1 advantage. He was on the verge of a famous victory in the crucial fourth set but the experienced Parekh smacked timely winners to force the decider. Victory was once again within Baitha's reach when he went ahead 7-4 in the fifth and final set. But he frittered away the advantage as Parekh drew level at 8-all. The pressure got to Baitha and forced him into errors as the never-say-die Parekh capitalized to seal the title in a tight finish.

NSCI Juniors & Doubles Open Squash Championship 2013

At NSCI Club, Mumbai (28/02/2013)

Double delight for Adik brothers, Druv stuns No. 1 Tanay for U-11 crown

It was all in the family for the Adik siblings, Aryaman and Advait of Otters Club, who won the boys under-15 and under-13 titles, respectively, in the Rs. 1.5 lakh NSCI Juniors & Doubles Open Squash Championship, at the National Sports Club of India, Mumbai.

Second seed Advait kicked off a rewarding day when he overcame top seed Aryan Parekh of Matunga Gymkhana 11-9, 11-6, 8-11, 6-11, 11-9 in a thriller that went down to the wire. Advait surged to a 2-0 lead to take Aryan by surprise. But Aryan, who was strong, both on the backhand and forehand, used all his resources to stage a brilliant recovery to force the decider. The exciting contest between the arch rivals could have gone either way but Advait held on grimly to a slender lead in the final set to fashion his maiden win over the favourite.

Second seed Aryaman halted No. 4 Dev Vazirani of Khar Gymkhana with a 3-1 victory after the latter had shocked top seed Chaitanya Shah of Bombay Gymkhana in the semi-finals. With Shah out of the fray, Aryaman's path was clear, but Vazirani came up with a stiff challenge in the second, third and fourth sets after an indifferent start. Dev's younger sibling, second seed Druv made amends when he shocked top seed Tanay Punjabi of Otters Club 12-10, 11-8, 7-11, 9-11, 13-11 in the most riveting championship match. Following a 2-0 lead after a gruelling start, Druv put Tanay under early pressure. But the latter staged a remarkable recovery to live up to his reputation. The decider was anybody's when it stretched into extra points before Druv held on to take it away for one of the most astonishing triumphs. While the formidable CCI pair of Rishad Pandole and Sahil Vora won the Open Doubles crown, Aishwarya Singh and Abhishek Agarwal, both of Jindal Squash Academy, won the boys under-17 and under-19 titles, respectively.

Ananya Dabke was a significant girls' under-11 winner after overcoming Aarya Ogale in a thriller. Diya Joukhani of Khar Gymkhana, Aishwarya Bhattacharya of Bombay Gymkhana and Akanksha Salunkhe of Goa were the other title winners among the girls.

Scottish Junior Open 2013

At Edinburgh's Heriot Watt University
(9/01/2013)

Scottish Junior Open had Competitors from seven different nations across five continents at Edinburgh's Heriot Watt University.

In a stunning Boys Under 13 final England's Nick Wall avenged last week's British Open final loss to Tushar Shahani (IND) by beating the number 2 seed in a five game marathon. Shahani had taken the first two games, before the English number 1 kicked into life to win 3-2 and take the title.

After the game, a breathless Nick Wall said: "It was really tight. This was a big match because he beat me 3-1 last week.

"I don't know what was wrong at the start", he added, "maybe I reacted too much to the way he was playing because as the match went on I got more confident and started to play my own game."

Having lost the first game, number 1 seed Satomi Watanabe (JAP) coolly beat India's Akansha Salunke to triumph in the Girls Under 15 final. Her number 2 seeded rival looked to have the upper hand in the second game before Watanabe came from behind, going on to win the match 3-1.

Women's Meadowood Pharmacy Open 2013

At Winnipeg Winter Club, Winnipeg, Canada (02/02/13)

Dipika is Meadowood Champ

The 4th annual $15,000 Women's Meadowood Pharmacy Open being played at Winnipeg Winter Club, Winnipeg, Canada saw the highest caliber of competition it has seen in its four year existence and has a suiting champion with the highest ranked winner in its history with Dipika Pallikal beating 2nd seed Joey Chan of Hong Kong 3-0.

The first game went back and forth with little to separate the two. Pallikal mixed low drives with deceptive flicks for winners and Joey replied with counterdrops and attacking volleys. Pallikal won the game 11-9.

The second game saw Joey change her approach, she became more aggressive, going for winners off the serve and trying to attack before Dipika got the chance. The strategy was working in the early going as Joey got up 4-1, but it didn't last as Dipika steadied her play and regained control of the game. The players were neck and neck towards the end before Pallikal found some timely winners to claim the game 11-7.

The third game didn't start the way Joey had planned, going down 6-0. She got some unlucky bounces in the back of court but Dipika's pressure was the main reason for the deficit. Chan bounced back with a few backhand volley winners of her own, getting to 4-8, but that was as close as she would get. Dipika dug in to close out the match, 11-4. Dipika gracefully accepted the trophy as the 2013 Meadowood Pharmacy Open Champion. She thanked the tournament organizers, sponsors, billets as well as her coach, Sara Fitz-Gerald. Dipika mentioned that it was nice to see such big crowds in Winnipeg, supporting WSA squash.

18th D.D.A. Open Squash Tournament 2013

At Siri Fort Sports Complex, New Delhi (09/02/2013)

Saurav, Sachika reigns supreme in DDA Open

World No.18 Saurav Ghosal entertained the spectators with a few trick shots as he beat Gaurav Nandrajog 11-7, 11-3, 11-7 in the men's final of the DDA Open squash tournament at the Siri Fort Indoor Stadium, New Delhi.

The home crowd was backing Nandrajog who had beaten Ghosal a few times in the junior days, but the tiring rallies at the start of the match, when both the players did not win two points in a row till 5-5, took the sting out of the Delhi lad's game.

"Gaurav played pretty well. I played ok, and was not that sharp," said Ghosal, quite polite to his opponent, whom he felt would be a much better if he played more professional circuit.

Ghosal, who will return to his training base in England before proceeding to North America for his next PSA event starting by the end of the month, pocketed Rs. 1,25,000.

Nandrajog, who had missed six years on the circuit owing to an injury, had the game but was not that match-sharp to stretch a player of the calibre of Ghosal, for long. Yet, he won the hearts of the home crowd with his brave fight, and collected Rs. 60,000 for the effort.

In the women's final, Sachika Ingale, a first year student of Venkateshwara College in Delhi, was too smart in beating Enora Villard, in straight games, though the French opponent played increasingly better as the match progressed. Coached by her father Vijay Ingale, Sachika said that the title, which fetched her Rs. 50,000 prize, would inspire her to train better, though shifting home to Greater Noida was not helping her game. Having finished runner-up the year before last, Sachika was pleased to clinch the title, albeit in a small field.
