In a dramatic final of the WSF Men's World Team Squash Championship in France which went the full distance, second seeds England upset defending champions Egypt to reclaim the sport's most prestigious trophy for the fifth time since 1995.

31 nations had been competing in the 24th edition of the championship which was staged in France for the first time in its 46-year history. There were two venues in Mulhouse, the Espace Squash 3000 Centre and the Palais Des Sports where, for the first time, matches have played simultaneously on three ASB all-glass showcourts spectacularly lined up side-by-side.

India also celebrated their best finish since 1979, bettering their seeding by beating Malaysia 2/0 in the play-off for seventh place.

Mahesh Manganar beat Muhd Asyraf Azan 14-12, 11-4, 11-7 before Indian number one Saurav Ghosal recovered from two games down to defeat seasoned opponent Ong Beng Hee 6-11, 7-11, 12-10, 11-7, 11-9.

Ghosal said: "It's been a tough week, but I think we all played well and are pleased to finish today with a win. We were disappointed to lose to Germany - who have finished fifth - I was so close to beating Simon (Rosner) in five.

"This is the toughest tournament in the world as, especially in my position as the number one, you play top players every day - it's relentless! But we have a young team, so can look forward to doing even better next time."

Goan Achiever Award to Akansha

At Goa (11th April 2013)

Akansha Salunkhe was awarded the Goa's most prestigious awards, Goan Achiever of the Year 2013 in the Sports category. She was amongst 3 shortlisted candidates, other 2 being Ms Natasha Palha (Tennis) and Ms Genevieve D'Costa (Diving)

Akansha happened to be the youngest awardee at 14 yrs while Super Cop Mr Julio Rebeiro was awarded Lifetime Achievement Award. The Chief Minister of Goa, Mr Manohar Parrikar was the Goan Achiever of the year while Ms Sequera, top boss of Morgan Stanley was the Women Goan Achiever Award.

Akansha was chosen with popular votes considering her achievements last year and most importantly for shinning as a Goa, at the international and national level in this unique sport of Squash. With Akansha's win, the actual winner is Squash itself whose recognition is rising with every day. Hope she continues her progress in the game so that one day, India may shine on the international level in squash

|| Khar Gymkhana Squash Academy continued to attain results at the international levels. Our Under-13 champions- Veer Chotrani stood Runner Up and Tushar Shahani stood 7th despite a knee injury at the Asian Junior Squash Championship, held at Jordan 25-29 June. They will now participate in the Dutch Pioneer Open.

The Academy is now set to strengthen its feeder route to churn out more champions. Presently, there are 8 players in the age bracket of 5-7 years. August onward, a separate Junior Development Program will be launched to develop the young talent scientifically.

CCI - PSA SQUASH CHALLENGER 15-2013"

At CCI Club, Mumbai (11th May, 2013)

Egyptian Mazen wins Mumbai Title

Egyptian teenager Mazen Hesham Ga Sabry today picked up his second PSA World Tour title in little more than a month - both against expectations - when he upset second-seeded compatriot Mohd Ali Anwar Reda in the final of the CCI PSA Squash Challenger 15, the inaugural PSA Challenger 15 event at the Cricket Club of India in Mumbai.

Just 24 hours after toppling the top seed Alan Clyne, the world No.31 from Scotland, 19-year-old Ga Sabry repeated his giant-killing exploits against the No.2 seed Reda, despatching the world No.47 11-6, 11-9, 11-9.

"It was an astonishing performance by the young Egyptian squash star," said tournament organiser Mahesh Mangaonkar. "What lovely nicks, lobs, deception. This guy is just unbelievable!" The success marks the 19-year-old world No.62 from Cairo's fourth career PSA Tour title, and his second since March when, unseeded, Ga Sabry took the West of Ireland Open crown in Galway.

Asian Junior U 19 Individual Championship 2013

Indian youngsters return home with 2 silvers and 5 bronze medals from 20th Asian Junior Individual Championships in Amman, Jordan.

Anaka Alankamony was dethroned by Ho Ka Po in the Girls Under-19 final. Under-par Anaka failed to take her chances and was made to pay by the Hong Kong girl. Anaka led 7-2 in the first game but failed to close it out and squandered game points in the second and third games as a grateful Ho Ka Po took the title.

Veer Chotrani lost to Muhammad Hafiz Abdul Harif of Malaysia in the Boys Under-13 final.

2nd seed Veer Chotrani took the early lead in the 1st but the steadier game of the No.1 seed drew a string of errors from Veer. The second game should really have gone to Veer who was 10-6 up, but all credit to Zhafri who hung in very well. The third was Zhafri's all the way. However it is pertinent to say that here we have, two extremely talented players and we are going to hear more of them in the years to come. A total of 156 participants from 13 countries (Hong Kong, Korea, Japan, Malaysia, Singapore, India, Sri Lanka, Pakistan, Kuwait, Iraq, Iran, Qatar and Jordan.) took part in 8 categories (boys and girls under 19, 17, 15 and 13)

World Squash Day 2013 launched - REACH OUT

REACH OUT on World Squash Day

REACH OUT IDEAS FOR EVENTS

REACH OUT TO YOUR NEIGHBOURS:

If you share facilities with other sports, why not invite them in for a fun day of squash and finish with a social event.

REACH OUT TO OTHER CLUBS:

You could arrange for squash coaches to offer some fitness training, followed by some fun games on court.

REACH OUT TO SCHOOLS:

To attract more youngsters to the game, squash clubs are invited to reach out to local schools. Arrange free coaching and try to create regular coaching sessions, either during school time or set up an after-school club.

REACH OUT AND HELP

There are lots of squash clubs in deprived parts of the world. Reach out to help with offers of kit, rackets and equipment to help those clubs stage their own events on World Squash Day.

REACH OUT AND HIT THE ROAD

Let's follow the example set by Peter Nicol and Tim Garner during their amazing 7-Continents Challenge.

REACH OUT AND SHARE IDEAS

If you have a great idea, post it on the website: www.worldsquashday.com and share it with other squash enthusiasts all over the world.

REACH OUT WITH A CAMERA

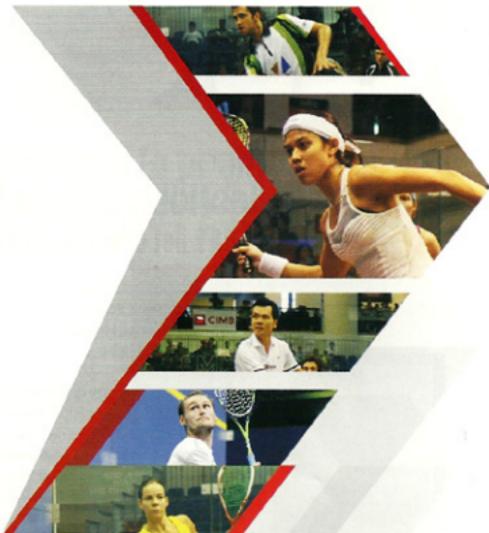

On World Squash Day, make sure you film your event and post the pictures or movie clips on www.worldsquashday.com Gallery Page.

Following the incredible success of the 2012 World Squash Day, when 46,000 players took part in the biggest sports fixture in history, it has been confirmed that the 2013 World Squash Day will take place on Saturday October 5th, under the theme Reach Out.

This year's event – the 12th celebration of this worldwide festival – will encourage players from across the globe to embrace another club, town, sport, or organisation to help continue the global growth of squash.

World Squash Federation Chief Executive Andrew Shelley said: "2013 is an incredibly important year for squash as we hope to forge a new Olympic partnership ourselves, and we are keen to encourage links and initiatives as part of our quest for continued growth of the sport every level.

WSD founder Alan Thatcher said: "We are hoping that every squash club on the planet will join in and reach out to another organisation. They could be next door, or on the other side of the world. The idea is to build connections and create partnerships to help the sport grow.

Ritwik Bhattacharya to boost PSA in Asia : 08/04/2013

Five-time national champion Ritwik Bhattacharya has been appointed by the Professional Squash Association to the new position of PSA South East Asia Representative.

The 33-year-old former world No.38 from Mumbai will take on a wide role, including liaising with existing PSA World Tour events in the region, attracting new events to India and the region and ensuring that PSA requirements are delivered across events, press, media, player welfare.

From the collections of Late Raju Chainani (Squash writer) Team MID-DAY get cracking in Kuala Lumpur : Mid-day 14/5/2000

KUALA LUMPUR, May 13 THE Team MID-DAY junior squash team swung into action at the Lakeview Club on Friday evening, a few hours after reaching their hotel. A light lunch with coach K H Ong at the Luxurious Holiday Villa in Subang Jay a went down well as they players had time to talk discuss the forthcoming fortnight.

The Air-India crew gave the players and accompanying entourage a red carpet treatment on board. There was a bit of fun too and the kids were full of beans when they got to the final destination.

There is a lot of Indian interest at present in Kuala Lumpur. The junior hockey team has done well. K P S Gill, president of the Indian Hockey Federation, was on the same flight as the squash group and if all goes to plan, some of the MID-DAY team would be at the Bukit Jalil Stadium on Sunday night to cheer the Indian boys in the final against South Korea.

Not so sweet have been the results in the Thomas Cup but it is the world's best who are in action. The finals are on 21st and there should be time to visit the badminton venue. A day trip to Penang has been planned for the 26th. It is finals day at the Malaysian National Games and Team MID-DAY would have the opportunity of seeing Ong Beng Hee and Nicol David, the current world junior boys' and girls' champions in action.

Coach K H Ong felt the Mumbai kids have to set themselves goals and work towards achieving them. 'It is all about hard work and dedication', he said, 'I have seen it with my son. This is a new environment for them so one needs to be patient'.

The Executive Board (EB) of the International Olympic Committee (IOC) today recommended that baseball/softball, squash and wrestling be proposed to the 125th IOC Session for possible inclusion as an additional sport on the Olympic programme for the 2020 Olympic Games.

The EB selected the three sports by secret ballot from a shortlist of eight that also included karate, roller sports, sport climbing, wakeboarding and wushu. The vote followed 30-minute presentations by each International Federation and an extensive evaluation by the Olympic Programme Commission to determine their potential added value to the Games.

The full IOC membership will meet for the 125th Session in Buenos Aires, Argentina from 7 to 10 September and will vote on which of the three sports to add to the programme of the Games of the XXXII Olympiad in addition to the 25 core sports – plus golf and rugby sevens – proposed by the EB in February.

The World Squash Federation welcomed the decision by the IOC Executive Board to shortlist Squash as a potential sport to join the Olympic Programme for the 2020 Olympic Games. The IOC Executive Board, which comprises 15 IOC members including President Jacques Rogge, made its decision after receiving presentations from eight sports.

The Squash presentation team included seven-time women's world champion and world number one Nicol David, and Ramy Ashour, men's world champion and world number one. Three films were shown in the Squash presentation, including a newly-commissioned film which captures the broadcast innovations the sport has introduced in the last few years.

Sheltrex signs Dipika Pallikal to promote 'World Champion Builders' program : 26/4/2013

Sheltrex launched their new 'World Champion Builders' program in Chennai. The ceremony was attended by Ms. Dipika Pallikal, India's top squash player, and the first athlete to be part of this program.

Sheltrex is a technology integrated housing venture promoted by Sheltrex Housing Pvt. Ltd., headquartered in Pune, India. Sheltrex has been the biggest proponent of integrating technologies to support sustainable urban development.

The 'World Champion Builders' program is a youth and community sports program that plans to encourage young sport talent. Under this program, Sheltrex plans to host community sports tournaments and other sports activities in schools and colleges across Tamil Nadu and eventually all over India. The program will consider sports like Lawn Tennis, Badminton, Squash, Shooting and Chess in its inaugural year.

Sheltrex Chairman Mr. Rajesh Krishnan said, "The goal of the 'World Champion Builders' program is to look for rising stars of Tamil Nadu and nurture them into tomorrow's world champions. The program will identify at least 5 athletes in Tamil Nadu over the next 3 years. Since Sheltrex has launched its maiden project in Chennai, investing in the local community is high on its agenda. We are extremely proud to be associated with such a talented player as Dipika. We will work hard with her to help her on the journey to become the world's no.1 squash player."

Squash World Mourns Dicky Rutnagar

24 June 2013

Dicky Rutnagar receiving the 'Services to Squash' award at the 2007 World Squash Awards

The world of squash is mourning the passing of Dicky Rutnagar, the highly-respected Indian-born British-based journalist who covered squash, badminton and cricket for the Daily Telegraph and died in London. He was 82 and survived by son Richard Sohrab Rutnagar & sister Amavaz Dubash.

After battling cancer for many years, Dicky visited Mumbai for the last time in November 2010.

"It is a sad day for the squash family as Dicky was one of the first journalists to get squash into the broad-sheets," said PSA CEO Alex Gough.

Jahangir Khan, the record ten-time British Open champion from Pakistan said: "He was a wonderful man. I knew him since when I started playing junior events in the UK. He was greatly respected by everyone and he knew squash so well - and his articles were so enjoyable and to the point. He was actually an all-round writer and I have read many of his articles on other sports in the Telegraph. My father and I had worked on a book with him called UNLIMITED KHAN in Pakistan, published by OXFORD PRESS. It is a great loss to journalism. May his soul rest in peace."

Two-time world champion Nick Matthew, the current world No4 from England, added: "It is with great sadness that I read about Dicky's passing. Along with Colin McQuillan, Martin Bronstein and Richard Eaton, Dicky was one of the first journalists I spoke to upon my breakthrough in the game. I was always astounded by Dicky's knowledge, passion and enthusiasm for the game. He had a unique insight and loved the history of the game yet embraced the future. Best wishes to Dicky's family."

Andrew Shelley, CEO of the World Squash Federation, said: "In an era that started decades before the reporting world changed with the advent of internet, Dicky Rutnagar was already a doyen of the craft. His encyclopaedic knowledge of players and championships, his direct and accurate mode of reportage - whether it be squash or his other love cricket - led Dicky to be held in the highest esteem by players, promoters and his publications alike."

Ted Wallbuton, a former WSF CEO, added: "Dicky Rutnagar was truly a 'one off'. His Squash reporting was always flawlessly accurate, infinitely readable and usually contained a reflection of his quirky and endearing sense of humour."

Malcolm Willstrop, coach to numerous leading players adds: "Dicky Rutnagar belonged to a journalistic age when quality writers wrote about the sports they loved; in Dicky's case cricket and squash. 'Dicky was not only a fine journalist, he was a lovely, gentle, humorous man. He will be happy that he was true to the sports he loved. I remember him with fondness.'"

WAS HIS SOUL REST IN PEACE
